Project : Head Office Volker Wessels in Amersfoort, The Netherlands

Recently Verhoeckx Afbouw has completed a notable project at Volker Wessels head office in Amersfoort, The Netherlands. However, you can not really call it notable as it is not visible when it is not in use.

The area, pictured in the image above, which is used for weekly meetings and internal courses, has a semicircular shape which is not exactly ideal for a big projection screen.

That's why the semicircular wall was treated with Mighty Brighty projection screen paint on both sides. In total no less than 350m². Now images can be projected on either side of the wall, as you can see on the images on this page. Due to the large surface the installer chose to spray the paint instead of rolling it, which resulted in a very professional look.

As soon as the meeting is over, one only needs to turn off the projector. The wall will not show any sign indicating the presence of a projection screen.

About Mighty Brighty

An image projected on Mighty Brighty Projection Screen Paint has much better contrast and brightness than that of a plain white wall. It has the same quality as a professional projection screen. On top of that you always have exactly the right screen format for your specific situation and it's invisible when not in use.
